

State Police Announces Next Session of Women in Aviation and Law Enforcement Seminar

Edited July 10, 2024|1:06 p.m.

The Delaware State Police Aviation Section is excited to announce the opening of the application process for the next session of the “DSP Women in Aviation and Law Enforcement Seminar.” This engaging and educational seven-week program will begin on Thursday, September 26th, at the Delaware State Police Hangar in Middletown, Delaware.

Participants will meet every Thursday and will have the unique opportunity to explore the various facets of the Delaware State Police (DSP) and witness firsthand how the Aviation Section serves the residents and visitors of the First State. The seminar will emphasize the contributions of pioneering women in aviation and law enforcement, featuring presentations from several dynamic and inspiring speakers.

The seminar is open to individuals 18 and older. Class size is limited to ensure a personalized and enriching experience. Participation in the program is free.

Those interested in applying are asked to send an email to dsp_aviationadmin@delaware.gov.

The application deadline is September 1, 2024. Don't miss this incredible opportunity to learn, grow, and be inspired by aviation and law enforcement leaders.
