Troopers Investigating Road Rage Incident in Georgetown

Delaware State Police are investigating a road rage incident involving a gun that occurred yesterday in Georgetown.

On November 12, 2024, at approximately 11:44 a.m., troopers responded to the area of Springfield Road and Gravel Hill Road in Georgetown for a report of a road rage incident involving a gun. The investigation revealed that a Chevrolet Silverado, driven by a 37-year-old victim, was traveling westbound on Johnson Road, approaching the intersection at Gravel Hill Road. At the same time the victim entered the intersection, another Chevrolet Silverado, driven by an unknown white male suspect, also entered the intersection from eastbound Springfield Road. After a near collision at the intersection, the suspect's Silverado proceeded to travel behind the victim southbound on Gravel Hill Road. The suspect then sped up and entered the oncoming travel lane to be parallel with the victim's vehicle. Once the suspect was alongside the victim's driver side window, he pointed a handgun at the victim. After the victim sped up to get in front of the suspect, the suspect's Silverado fled eastbound on Zoar Road. Troopers searched for the area but were unable to locate the suspect or the suspect's truck.

The suspect is described as a white male with a bald head, who is possibly armed with a handgun. The suspect's vehicle is described as a white Chevrolet Silverado with a Leer cap on the bed of the truck.
